FRESHMAN YEAR

September 5, 1946—

Dear Diary,

Today, we the class of 1950—seems like a long way off—have been duly initiated into the membership of Weymouth High School. Taking an inventory, we found ourselves with stacks of books, a precious program card (issued with warning not to lose it and to copy it correctly—or we'd be sorry) plus pencils, pens, and rulers. The latter became handy later as offensive and defensive weapons!

The first day is over and it's time to settle down to opening up the covers of those books.

September 21, 1946—

Dear Diary,

It's Friday. At least that's what the calendar said. However, in school it was Monday, with the program running backwards—just to confuse us freshmen a little more, if that was possible. A little kindness was shown us however; the clocks were running as usual. The upper classmen seemed to understand all these mysterious changes. Possibly in three years, we shall, too.

The purpose of all this confusion was to present a program in the auditorium, where Mr. Whittle, our principal, extended us a hearty welcome and best wishes for a happy four years.

September 25, 1946—

Dear Diary,

The "Aggie" boys took the day off to go down to Mr. Kress's farm to learn how to sort and pack tomatoes today. They learned how to pack a basket of grade-A tomatoes out of a pile of grade-C's by facing the best side out and adding a little bit of cellophane. From all reports it seems as if they had a very good time. There'll be many good farmers in the future, especially from Weymouth High School.

September 28, 1946—

Dear Diary,

We had a football rally this afternoon. The football team was introduced, along with the cheerleaders and the coaches. High school is really becoming interesting!

September 29, 1946—

Dear Diary,

Miss Nye is in England. Miss Flaherty has very ably taken over her work in the Guidance Office.

October 2, 1946—

Dear Diary,

Being freshmen has at least some good points! We go to lunch first. Just think of those poor unfortunate juniors and seniors who have to wait until the third lunch period before they can enjoy that pleasure.

We also have another advantage; we go down to the auditorium first whenever there is an assembly. Maybe it would be better to remain a lower classman—we probably shall, anyhow.

October 17, 1946—

Dear Diary,

Today was "Dungaree Day." It seemed strange to see everyone wearing dungarees, especially in school. But, my, did it bring back those old summer memories! Why don't they pass a new law—"Dungaree Day" every day?

November 10, 1946—

Dear Diary,

We were late for school this morning. It was evident that those Lovell buses would break down sooner or later. Miss Vining was presenting one of her famous Latin tests the first period. Wasn't it too bad so many didn't arrive until the second period?

January 3, 1947—

Dear Diary,

The second half of the school year began today. Although it is a new year, we are still freshmen; however, now we have much more "hep" than last September. What a wonderful Christmas vacation we spent! There was plenty of snow for many outdoor sports.

March 12, 1947—

Dear Diary,

The Spring Concert was tonight. What a superb job Mr. Jack does with the Band, Choir, and Orchestra! And even some of our freshmen participated. We are really getting into things now.

April 25, 1947—

Dear Diary,

We had a special communication from the "Aggie" boys in Vermont. It read something like this: "We have to work fifteen hours a day up here and for just one of Uncle Sam's greenbacks a day. Oh, well, it has its compensations! You should see the pretty girls up here!"

May 21, 1947—

Dear Diary,

The Band, Choir, and Orchestra left for Hampton Beach, N.H., today. Oh, those lucky people! They'll be home tomorrow night. Mr. Jack is going to have many new members in his musical groups next year—as the rumor goes, anyhow.

June 21, 1947—

Dear Diary,

At last the end of school for two whole months! It doesn't seem possible that we shall be sophomores next year (maybe we shan't be—who knows)? Our class is finally getting established. Many of its members have made the basketball, football, and baseball teams, and even more have been elected to the Student Council and Reflector Staff.

What a wonderful class we have! Don't you think so, "Dear Diary?"

SOPHOMORE YEAR

September 6, 1947—

Dear Diary,

Once more we are back in school. Surprising enough, it seems good to get back. Everyone was exchanging news and gossip about his summer vacation. Those summer resorts certainly sound interesting! The "Aggie" boys are back from their summer on the Vermont farm; they're not much wealthier but certainly healthier, if one can judge from those new muscles in their arms and that gleam in their eyes. We now have a new addition to our class (and what an addition!) the Trade School freshmen. They have only three years of school so although they are only freshmen, they will graduate with us.

October 5, 1947—

Dear Diary,

We had our usual reverse program today, but being sophomores now, we understand such minor changes. At an assembly, Miss Gill, our exchange teacher from England, gave an interesting lecture on customs in English schools.

November 12, 1947—

Dear Diary,

My, but those "Aggie" boys are lucky! The Wirthmore Feed Co. treated them to a chicken dinner and to a tour of the research laboratories, mills, and experimental farm. Pretty lucky!

November 20, 1947—

The Trade School carpenters are busy getting ready to build a house, a Garrison Colonial type, for Wallace Driscoll on Ralph Talbot Street, South Weymouth. The boys will have some cold days to work, because the temperature has already begun to drop.

November 28, 1947—

Dear Diary,

Thanksgiving recess is over and back to school again! The big football game last Thursday—Weymouth versus Hingham. The score Weymouth 27, Hingham 0. Can't beat that! The football team under Harry Arlanson did exceedingly well this season, having lost only two games.

December 5, 1947—

Dear Diary,

What luck! A day off for us in the lower classes. It's a big day though for the upper classmen, Career Day. Miss Nye and Mr. Gutterson have arranged a program consisting of twenty-six occupational group conferences. Each student had an opportunity to attend at least two conferences. Sixty-six men and women from business, industry, and the professions took part and discussed their work. We are looking forward to participation next year.

December 15, 1947—

Dear Diary,

Today Miss Petrucci presented a Christmas play in which students from all classes took part. What hidden talents are here in Weymouth High!

January 1, 1948—

Dear Diary,

New Year's Resolutions—

1. We will do our home work every night!
2. We will not skip school!
3. We will be good boys and girls!

January 5, 1948—

Dear Diary,

We should like to entrust to you, "Dear Diary," our New Year's resolutions. We will try ever so hard to keep them throughout 1948 and hope you won't be too strict in judging us.

January 12, 1948—

Dear Diary,

The Spelling Bee Finals were held today, in which Billy Hughes was the winner. We have many good spellers among our classmates.

February 28, 1949—

Dear Diary,

Ranks are out, but our resolutions seem not to have had much effect. We tried very hard, but there are no noticeable changes.

March 15, 1948—

Dear Diary,

The Sheet Metal Department started work on the heating system in Mr. Driscoll's new house. The house has really progressed; the entire job is under Mr. Clark's expert guidance and teaching.

April 16, 1948—

Dear Diary,

In the cabinet shop, the Sheet-Metal Department completed the blower system for removing sawdust from the machinery. This was one of the largest projects ever attempted by a high school. It received great comment from outside sources.

April 30, 1948–

Dear Diary,

Those lucky "Aggie" boys got out of classroom duties today to go to work on farms for the summer. They seem to get all the breaks! Oh, well, it isn't too much longer before we all shall leave for the summer vacation.

May 22, 1948–

Dear Diary,

The Band, Orchestra, and Choir came back from Hampton Beach, New Hampshire today. Despite the rainy, cold weather, they returned with an "A" rating. A little rain doesn't stop us hardy New Englanders.

May 30, 1948–

Dear Diary,

Cheerleaders were chosen today; Nancy Morris, Marie Severe, and Phyllis Lyden. We feel most proud to have members of the sophomore class among them.

June 24, 1948–

Dear Diary,

S-w-i-s-h, out the front door. We're off for our summer vacations. We'll see you in the fall.

JUNIOR YEAR

September 8, 1948-

Dear Diary,

It's the half-way mark, juniors, to be exact.

We had a wonderful surprise waiting for us. All the rooms are painted in attractive pastel colors, making the surroundings more conducive for study (obviously of little use for some). There are new laboratories on the third floor, the library is moved to the second floor, and all typewriting rooms are changed to the first floor.

September 21, 1948–

Dear Diary,

We're in the swing of the football season with rallies led by our peppy cheerleaders. Many of our junior boys keep things moving on the football field, while others are preparing for the winter track season.

November 15, 1948–

Dear Diary,

Girls, you would be wise to choose your husband from the members of the carpentry course in Trade School. They've had plenty of experience in building houses. They've started on a second house —a "Cape Cod" for Mr. Thomas A. Lyons, Jr. The house is located on Federal Street in Weymouth. The boys in the Sheet Metal Department are to install the heating system.

December 5, 1948–

Dear Diary,

What a wonderful time! The athletic teams certainly deserved that Victory Dance. Everyone looked so different and attractive, all dressed up in his best clothes, especially the "fellars" with suits and ties. Among the guests was Mr. Dicker, the English Exchange Teacher who came in Miss Mayo's place while she is in England. Mr. Dicker certainly finds our ways and customs quite different from those of the English.

January 5, 1949–

Dear Diary,

Back again with many resolutions for the new year. Nineteen forty-eight was a good year, but we expect much to happen this year.

Guess what! The "Aggie boys" have started a paper called the F. F. A. under the guidance of Bob Lincoln and Charlie Sundin. I guess the Reflector will have some competition! Included in the "Aggie" news is the record of their basketball team, headed by the lady's man, Dick Delorey.

April 29, 1949

Dear Diary,

At last the Senior Prom arrived. Many off us attended and everyone had an exciting time. The gym was turned into a ship with portholes and all kinds of nautical decorations. It took a long time for the seniors to plan for their prom, but the results were excellent. The music was supplied by Donovan's orchestra and everything went smoothly under the guiding hand of Miss Norris. We kept thinking one year from now we shall be having ours. It just doesn't seem possible.

May 2, 1949

Dear Diary,

All the science classes held an open house in the laboratories on the third floor tonight. It was really astonishing to see what our school could do. The biology classes had a beautiful rock garden and waterfall which took weeks to prepare. The chemistry classes had various exhibits, in one of which the making of cosmetics was demonstrated. Of course, the physics classes had many ingenious motors and gadgets, really complicated, but interesting. The exhibit was a huge success, with plans already being formed for one next year.

May 9, 1949—

Dear Diary,

We finally picked our class officers and everyone was certainly happy about the choice. Our president is Dick Russo; vice-president, Frank Boyle; secretary, Barbara Tukis; and treasurer, Dorothy Godfrey. There was plenty of competition, but these are the lucky ones.

May 13, 1949—

Dear Diary,

Tonight was our first party. What fun we had in preparing for it! Dorothy Godfrey and her committee did a marvelous job on the decorations, making the gym look like a circus, with clowns and all kinds of animals. Danny Shea's orchestra provided music, while several of our juniors took part in the entertainment. Of course, the boys liked the refreshments best of all. Many of the teachers attended, and it was fun to see them dancing and "cutting up" with the rest of us. For the first time, we were together with the members of the Vocational School. Our thanks to Miss Ghiorse, Miss Silvester, and all others who helped make our party a success.

May 15, 1949—

Dear Diary,

Our baseball team is unusually successful this season, but really doesn't get the support that the success warrants.

May 20, 1949—

Dear Diary,

We all lined up for pictures today. No lipstick, no hair-combing, no straightening of ties needed—only the removal of all metal (remember, Mrs. Driscoll?) The weather was rainy when that famous dash was made from the side door to the X-ray machine.

June 24, 1949—

Dear Diary,

We're back, blistered and burned to a crisp. If you turn us over, we'll crack. Our first experience with the sun this season certainly left us feeling slightly miserable. We feel that no record of our adventure at Old Silver Beach would be complete unless we recalled that certain members of our faculty took an unexpected dip. We wonder if Miss MacDougall and Miss Palmer will ever forget the Junior Outing.

Bye-bye for the summer!

SENIOR YEAR

September 8, 1949–

Dear Diary,

Is it possible that we are at last starting our senior year? From the record of this diary it must be!

September 17, 1949–

Dear Diary,

We started off the football season with a victory against Gardner, 38–0. Not bad!

September 22, 1949–

Dear Diary,

We had an enlightening assembly on the art of wrestling. It was somewhat disillusioning to wrestling fans to learn that it's all a "big fake." A few of Weymouth's light-weights, namely Louis Poupolo, Jim Austin, and Billy Ingham, acted as assistants.

September 24, 1949–

Dear Diary,

Our second game was with Everett. The score was 12–6. Can we help it? We're just good! "Tweedy", Perrow, Fairfield, Burns, and all of the boys were tops.

October 7, 1949–

Dear Diary,

Bulletin from the cooking room: The room is filled with students; they're turning white and fainting by the dozens. Now don't jump to conclusions; it isn't the cooking. Everyone's getting the needle for the Schick test. Those who get a swollen arm will go back and get more needles.

December 1, 1949–

Dear Diary,

The Student Council sponsored the yearly Victory Dance. Of course, the football players could stay only until 10 p.m., because they needed sleep for the Saugus game.

December 3, 1949–

Dear Diary,

To top an extra special season, the Weymouth High team was invited to play a post season game with Saugus at Manning Bowl in Lynn. Weymouth High School was ahead 6–0 in the last minute of the game when a long pass was thrown and Saugus went over the goal line for a score. The conversion being made, the score was 7–6 in favor of Saugus. It was heart-breaking.

December 5, 1949–

Dear Diary,

We've been so busy going to football games that we haven't had time to bring you up to date. The last game we told you about was Everett. Since then we've had a series of victories. We swept Quincy off its feet by 14–0; Brockton, 13–6; Braintree, 16–0; Dedham, 26–0; Somerville, that practice game, 28–0; and then Hingham, 28–12.

December 21, 1949–

Dear Diary,

Our Senior Christmas Party was a huge success. Santa Claus (Mr. Brown) saw to it that everyone received a gift. The decorations were made to fit the Christmas season. Santa started the party rolling by chasing Miss Hackett around the gym, finally catching her and planting a kiss upon her cheek.

Mr. Kearns started a new fad around school when he received a water pistol and amused himself by squirting the couples on the dance floor. Everyone agreed that the party was lots of fun.

December 28, 1949—

Dear Diary,

Santa Claus has come and gone. The boys have departed to Florida, and we're looking foward to getting post cards from the Southland.

January 6, 1950—

Dear Diary,

School is rather quiet. The football boys, Mr. Whittle, and the school coaches are still in Florida. We hear via Uncle Sam that they will stop off in Washington, D. C., and New York before arriving home.

January 10, 1950—

Dear Diary,

The "Aggie" boys are sponsoring a contest to choose a "Miss Aggie" of 1950. Thus far the semi-finalists are Anna Gomeau, Joan Williams, Lois Terry, and Joanne MacKinnon.

January 20, 1950—

Dear Diary,

We've just had our annual Winter Concert. It had an unusually large appreciative audience. The band presented a "High Brow" version of the "Old Gray Mare", which was particularly enjoyed.

February 10, 1950—

Dear Diary,

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," our senior play, was one of the most enjoyable plays ever presented at Weymouth High School. Priscilla Durbeck and Dianne Ackley were outstanding as the two feminine leads. Every member of the cast was excellent. Miss Flaherty should be congratulated on her choice of play, her fine casting, and superb directing.

February 15, 1950—

Dear Diary,

Our own Senior Prom is to be held on April 14. Robert Clow is chairman for the committee that is now busy considering, debating, and reconsidering the decorative scheme to be used. Miss Norris is directing, so we know it will be excellent. The Art Department, with Miss Silvester, will execute ideas in their usual co-operative, clever manner.

February 16, 1950—

Dear Diary,

Are we looking forward to the Senior Banquet? We keep hearing from last year's class about the trays of delicious turkey, and the lobster, plus rolls, salads, ice-cream, and cake. Gerald Barton and Kenneth Hennebury are co-chairmen of the banquet.

February 17, 1950—

Dear Diary,

We can't write any more. We're just sorry, but our time is up; in fact, past, and the printers want this masterpiece.

DIANNE ACKLEY—Dianne has gained great fame since her graduation from Weymouth High School. She is now playing the leading role in a famous Broadway play.

PATRICIA AHERN—Pat's good taste in clothes is now available to everyone; for Pat designs clothes for teen-agers, which are produced on a large scale in her own factory.

WILLIAM AHLSTEDT—"Tweedy" is now playing professional football with the Chicago Bears. On the off season he has a thriving Auto Repair Shop in Weymouth.

ROBERT ALDEN—Those important discoveries in atomic energy, which you have been reading about in the newspapers lately, may be credited to Bob, who is working as a research chemist for a large corporation.

JOHN ALLAN—John is an accountant for a Boston business firm, and we heard that his outstanding ability has placed him in line for a promotion.

RICHARD ALLEY—Dick may be seen at any time teaching at Wentworth Institute. After graduating from Weymouth High School, Dick went to Wentworth, where he did so well that he was asked to remain as a teacher.

JOHN ALMQUIST—Jack has been a successful linotype operator in the "Boston Herald." Recently, he has been appointed head of the composing room.

BARABARA F. ANDERSON—When you pick up your telephone, you are sure to hear Barbara's pleasing voice say "Number please;" for she is a telephone operator right here in Weymouth.

BARBARA L. ANDERSON—If you should happen to enter the office of a well-known Boston doctor, you would see Barbara cheerfully greeting the patients as they arrive.

BETTY ANDERSON—I'm sure you have all seen pictures of Betty on the covers of the leading magazines recently. She is now the most popular of the famous Powers' models.

JOHN ANDERSON—After graduating from Weymouth High School, John entered the field of television. He is responsible for many of its most recent developments.

CHARLES ARNOLD—"Chisel" has changed his trade; he is now a mortician. At one time, things were picking up, but now they are letting down. His slogan is "Let us do your planting for you."

ANN AUCOIN—Gerry is the private secretary of a handsome young business executive and it is rumored that she will soon become his wife.

JAMES AUSTIN—Tonight at Boston Gardens a large crowd is expected to turn out for the fight in which some unknown masked fighter will attempt to win the title of World's Heavyweight Champion from big Jim Austin.

PATRICIA AUSTIN—Pat is now teaching the third grade at the Pratt School. Her cheerful smile and friendly personality have won the admiration of all her pupils. They hate the thought of passing on to a new grade and a new teacher.

ROBERT AYDELOTT—Bob now specializes in portrait photography because his subjects are more interesting. He repairs old cars as a sideline. Soon he'll have one that really runs.

LAWRENCE BABINO—There's Lawrence perched atop the telephone pole. He took a job at the Electric Light Company so he could have a bird's eye view of the goings-on in Weymouth.

WYMAN BALFOUR—The Trans-Continent Trucking Company has employed Wyman as the new driver to transport feathers from New York to Hollywood to be used in ladies' hats.

JEAN BARBONE — There is the new kindergarten where Jean is doing a wonderful job of starting Weymouth's little citizens out on the right foot.

COLIN BARROW—"Bullets" has been down in the Triple-A League for the past year and is hoping to come up with the Red Sox soon.

GERALD BARTON—Did you notice that Gerry's football team is doing very well under his careful supervision? Everyone is cheering for him, especially those drum majorettes.

HENRY BATES—Henry, after further education, is now chief accountant at the home office of an insurance company in Hartford, Connecticut.

ELEANOR BEALS—Look at those happy smiles on the faces of the disabled veterans since Eleanor took the nursing job at the hospital. Her sole interest is taking care of all the buddies.

ELEANOR BELCASTRO—That new librarian certainly draws the people toward literary interests. Eleanor suggests romantic novels as the best reading material.

BARBARA BELCHER—There's Barbara in her "pert" white uniform, leaving the "New England Deaconess Hospital," where she renders her services as a special nurse. That, plus her housework, must keep her very busy.

MARY BENNETT—That new secretary to the latest bubble-gum concern is none other than Mary. She gets a bang out of her new position.

ROBERT BENNETT—Bob is building another addition to his gas station. Business is so prosperous that he has had to add a new pump each year.

LOREEN BETTENCOURT—Loreen is now the most capable secretary that the Superintendent of Weymouth has ever had. She is making a success of this and also of her recent marriage.

ARNOLD BLACKWELL—"Dean" is now the teacher of the newest subject at Weymouth High. He is teaching atomic energy and is doing very well.

WILLIAM BLAIR—Bill now has his own chicken farm, 'way down in Virginia and he is making a big success of it, producing 10,000 chicks a week.

RICHARD BLAZO—Dick can be seen almost any night at the new night club in Boston He is not only manager but the "bouncer" as well.

HAZEL BLENIS—Hazel is now secretary to a big radio producer. She got her start in high school with Mr. Cleaves and has been doing very well ever since.

IRA BLOOM—Ira recently made his first appearence as the youngest musician ever to play in Carnegie Hall. He played his own composition called Bloom's Symphony.

HARRY BOWEN—Have you visited Weymouth High lately and tasted the delicious food? The cafeteria is now supplied by a large farm under the management of Harry Bowen, a Weymouth High "Aggie" student.

ROBERT BOWES—Have you visited that new modernized self-service gas station in North Weymouth? It was built recently and is under the capable management of Bob Bowes.

ELAINE BOWSER—Elaine recently completed a two year Home Economics course in a Junior College so that she might begin her successful career as a housewife.

MILDRED BOWSER—No wonder there have been so many juvenile delinquency cases lately. Could it be that Millie is the new judge in Quincy Court?

FRANK BOYLE—Frank is now the youngest and smallest Admiral in the Navy. No wonder there are so many girls trying to join the Waves.

JOSEPH BRACCIA—"Joe Beef" operates a thriving business at the corner of Lake and Shawmut Streets, Joe's Spaghetti and Pizza House.

ROBERTA BRESNAHAN—Have you visited the office of the new doctor in North Weymouth lately? If so, you've also seen Bertie, his new secretary, and incidently his wife, too.

ROBERT BRIDGES—"Red" is now a Supreme Court judge, after having graduated from Harvard Law School. This proves that redheads have fire to get places in this world.

FRANK BRIGGS—Frank has a group of stock cars which he is going to enter in the races in June.

WILLIAM BROCKLESBY—The president of the "Beanie Company", maker of propelled beanies, recently returned home after spending a month's vacation in California. He is William Brocklesby, a former Weymouth High student.

ALICE BROOME—One of America's best band leaders has acquired himself a new chief cook and bottle-washer. It is lovely Alice Broome who makes a fine wife for any man.

AUDREY BROWN—The United States Civil Aeronautics Board has appointed a new engineer who has brought along his wife with him to Washington. The lucky wife is none other than Audrey Brown, the girl whose beautiful eyes have won her fame.

JANET BUCHANAN—"Scapel, nurse." "Yes, doctor." Why, it's Janet Buchanan I see in this Atomic Hospital in the Swiss Alps. My, Harvard Medical School certainly has prosperous graduates!

JAMES BUCKLEY—The women in North Carolina are in a frenzy about the new sergeant at the Marine Base at Camp Lejeune. He is none other than James Buckley. Oh, these handsome brutes!

PAUL BUMPUS—"Bumpy" now has a license, so stay clear of the roads if you want to stay healthy.

JOSEPH BURNS—The former Weymouth High School tackle star is now playing for the Philadelphia Eagles. Sport critics say that Joe has a place waiting for him on the All-Star team.

JANET BURRELL—There is a new scientific secretary down at the Howe and French laboratory that is just "tops". They say there hasn't been such a good secretary there for many years.

BEVERLY BUSSIERE—New England Baptist's patients are convalescing happily with their new physical therapist, Beverly Bussiere. Beverly certainly does wonders with her patients.

JANET CALLOWAY—American Airlines has announced a new round-trip fare for trips to the Moon. In charge of the business end is lovely Janet Calloway, Secretary in Chief of American Airlines.

MARY CAMERON—The society column the other night announced the marriage of the society governess, Mary Cameron, to the son of the millionaire, Rockerfeller. We always thought Mary would find a rich future in life.

ANNE CAMPBELL—Weymouth has appointed a new first-grade teacher at the Nevin School. It's none other than the former Anne Campbell. Anne is happily married to a publisher, and, by a strange coincidence, has her son, Donald, Jr., as a pupil.

BARBARA CANNIFF—General Mills has hired a new chief food demonstrater at their modernistic factory in Michigan. It is Barbara Cannill; and this lucky girl has all the comforts of home with an atomic-energy-powered kitchen.

BENJAMIN CARDINAL—"Benito is running competition with Joe Beel in an Italian Pastry business on the corner of Broad and Shawmut Streets.

DOROTHY CARL—"Swisher" has been doing the town since she left Weymouth High. During the day she's private secretary and "yes woman" to a rich spinster on Beacon Hill. When she isn't working, she needs a secretary to keep tract of all her many beaus.

JAMES CARLISLE—Headlines "Sonic Barrier Shattered.' The new record 1505 M. P. H. was set by a young Air Force jet pilot, James Carlisle.

BETTY ANN CARLSON—The radio and television star, Betty Carlson, has just recently purchased the Chicago Bears. When she isn't watching the team practising or playing, she's at home with her husband and two children.

JOSEPH CARO—The newly elected Secretary of War recently moved into his office at Washington. They finished painting his name on the door yesterday, so let's look and see who it is. Well, if it isn't Joseph Caro.

LILLIAN CARR—Capitol Row, in Washington, D. C. has a new tenant, the former Lillian Carr, with her Secretary of the Navy husband and their three sons. These boys will soon follow their naval father's footsteps.

HELEN CAULFIELD—"Honey" is now private secretary to Cecil B. DeMille, in Hollywood. She isn't married as yet but who would want to be with so many handsome males following you?

PAULINE CHANDLER—The music world acclaimed a new organist the other night at Carnegie Hall. Of course, it's none other than petite Pauline Chandler, the old faithful musician for the Rainbow girls.

WILSON CHANOVE—Wilson is now the star centre fielder for the New York Yankees. My, these Southern boys certainly have the "you all" for getting places.

NATALIE CHOATE—Natalie is now happily married to her former employer and shares half interest in their business, a road-side soda bar and gift shop in Maine.

MARTHA CHUBBUCK—"Calling Superintendent Chubbuck." That's the repeated call over the loud-speaker system at Massachusetts General Hospital, and it's our old friend Martha they're calling. By the way, I hear the last name won't be Chubbuck after a few more days.

ANN CICCHESE—"Nurse, please take my temperature." Well, it's Ann Cicchese; and my, what a wonderful nurse she has turned out to be.

ROBERT CLOW—"Open your mouth, please." Oh, what a handsome dentist. If all dentists could be like him, there would be toothless women in America. Keep drilling, Buddy!

LORIELIE COBB—The passengers of United Airlines are at peace with sweet Lorielie Cobb as the hostess. Certain young men also think she's sweet.

MARION COLASANTI—Marion is peacefully settled down with a typewriter, husband, and a few children. The reason is that she's leading a double life—one as a secretary and the other as a wife and mother.

DONALD COLEMAN—"Gopher" has recently accepted the position as chief photographer at West Point. H'm'm no wonder the American people have seen better pictures of Army's great football team.

GLORIA COLLIER—"Attention! Shoulders back, girls!" That voice sounds familiar and it is; for it belongs to lovely Gloria Collier, who is now a captain in the WAACS.

PATRICIA COUGHLIN—I hear there is going to be a new candy shoppe in Quincy, run by none other than Pat Coughlin. Fanny Farmer has some competition now.

ALFRED COYLE—There's a new policeman down in Weymouth Landing that has ticket fever. "Dont worry though, they're only for the "Policeman's Ball". This young fellow is the "Pride of the Irish", Alfred Coyle.

ANN CREHAN—There's a new airline that has half-fare trips to Mars for Weymouth High School graduates, and the pretty chief hostess is none other than Ann Crehan.

EDITH CROSBY—The John Hancock Insurance is the best insurance company in Boston as far as Edith is concerned. This is the fourteenth year she has been employed there and she is still very happy.

CLIFFORD CURRIER—Have you been to Symphony Hall lately? If you haven't, go in and you'll find that one of your classmates plays first flute in the orchestra. Yes, it's Cliff Currier.

EDITH CUSHMAN—Did you read the wonderful article on the Governor's Ball? It was cleverly written by that new young Boston Post Society editor, Edith Cushman. Good going, Edith!

MARGARET CUSHMAN—Peg in 1960 has set up her own dress shop in Boston. Some of her original styles are being copied by all the large department stores. Also, it has been rumored that Pierre, the French stylist, is offering her a contract to work with him in Paris.

RITA D'ALLESANDRO—Have you heard that lovely new singer on the Dinner Club? Well, listen if you haven't. Tune in every evening at 6:30 and listen to Rita.

CHARLES DeCOSTE—The curtain's going up on your favorite television drama, produced and directed by the famous Chuck DeCoste. You've certainly hit the top, Chuck!

JOSEPH DeGRENIER—A fifty-three ton turbine has just been installed at Niagara Falls by one of the nation's leaders in Electronics, Joseph DeGrenier.

RICHARD DeLOREY—The "Queen Mary" has just docked in New York with many celebrities aboard. The new captain, only six years out of the Maritime Academy, is Dick DeLorry.

PHYLLIS DENAULT — "Take a letter please," said the President of General Motors, who has now one of the most efficient secretaries in the business, Phyllis Denault.

JOAN DESMOND—After four years leading the college band, a former Weymouth High School drum majorette has finally reached the top, The Cities Service Band of America. Yes, it's Joan Desmond.

LEO DESMOND—After a thrilling gunfight and pursuit through the streets, Captain Leo Desmond and his men finally captured the mob that had been terrifying the city with daring bank robberies.

JOAN DiBONA—"Have you an appointment, please?" Haven't we heard that voice before? Surely, that's Joan DiBona working for Doctor Pain in the Little Building. With a secretary like that, no wonder he is so busy.

PHILLIP DiTULLIO—Phil is now the head salesman of the Cadillac in this territory. He leads all in the sale of automobiles in New England.

JANET DIXON—Well, who's this taking dictation? Why, it's Janet Dixon, now a medical secretary for the Mayo Clinic.

ROBERT DOHERTY—Are you planning to go hunting or fishing? If you want a good guide and equipment, visit Rob Doherty's Sporting Goods Shop.

ALFRED DONADIO—I doubt if you could possibly have missed seeing those enormous, new, long-distance moving vans that are part of Al's trucking concern.

DORIS DONALDSON—It was no mistake when Doris was voted the prettiest and best secretary they ever had at Macy's in New York.

FRANCES DONOVAN—Fanny was so popular with all her students that they all went in mourning when she left last week to be married.

SHIRLEY DOWELL—I saw Shirley Dowell, private secretary to the famous detective Sam Spade, at the Stork Club last night with Dick Tracy.

ALLAN DREW—Call on Sherlock Drew if you are robbed or murdered. I've heard he never leaves a case unsolved—no matter how much it costs you.

VIRGINIA DREW—I saw Virginia and her two lively sons the other day. She looked very happy. Married life seems to agree with her.

PATRICIA DRISCOLL—Pat is private secretary to the world's most brilliant surgeon, who is at present at the Mayo Clinic. There's been rumors of wedding bells for them soon.

CAROLYN DRIVER—Carolyn is one of those cute nurses who can be seen any day raising the blood pressure of her patients at the South Shore Hospital.

WALTER DUKER—"Duke" is now Weymouth's new Park Commissioner. Since he was elected, new parks have been planned.

PRISCILLA DURBECK—Priscilla, who combines homemaking with her modelling career, has just been chosen "The Model Mother of 1960".

MARGARET EASTER—Margaret is now creating fashions in Hollywood for all the movie stars. She's the most popular dress maker there, and she looks well in her creations herself.

FAITH EATON—Faith and her husband have just returned by plane from Paris, France, where they spent the past summer.

NANCY EDWARDS—Nancy went to Alaska to teach little Eskimo children the fundamentals of shorthands and typing, but I've heard rumors that she soon will marry a gold prospector.

EDNA ERICKSON—Edna has a new cook book, How To Cook in Ten Easy Lessons. She had it published last week. Her husband claims that nobody is a more capable cook than she.

THOMAS FAY—Tommy, who made his television debut after his graduation from Weymouth High School, is now one of the highest paid television stars on the N. B. C. network.

HERBERT FAIRFIELD—If you haven't seen the new coach at Weymouth High, take a look! It's none other than that great football hero, Herb Fairfield.

DONALD FERGUSON—I learned the other day that Donald Ferguson, the famous explorer, has just discovered a new island in the South Pacific. He's named it "Dreamer's Paradise".

GEORGE FINLAYSON—George is now teaching at Boston University where he was an honor student for four years.

ELIZABETH FISHER—When you enter the office of Dr. Regan, prominent eye specialist in Boston, you will find an efficient medical secretary who will put you at ease immediately.

IDA MAE FISHER—Although many other large firms have tried to employ her, Ida Mae has remained at Lever Brothers, and the chief executives's son seems to be one of the most important reasons why.

CHARLES FITTS—Weldon Wright, the new dramatic actor that made Broadway sit up and take notice in the drama, "The Violin", would be more familiar to us as Charles Fitts.

SALLY FITZGERALD — Sally began by teaching the children of the stars in Hollywood and was very popular with her pupils. She's now playing parts in the movies—she may yet be a star herself.

VIRGINIA FLEMING—Virginia will leave her position at the John Hancock Building, where she's been breaking all speed records. The reason she's leaving is the solitaire on her third finger, left hand.

WILLIAM FOREST—If you're been wondering who is the designer of all those modern homes that have been popping up all over Weymouth, wonder no more! It's Bill Forest, contractor and builder.

GEORGE FOSTER—Frank finally received a contract to build a bridge spanning the Amazon River.

JUDITH FOSTER—Judith and her husband made a record-round-the-world flight in their private rocket ship. Next trip, they plan to aim for the moon.

BARBARA FOX—Barbara is that cute little stenographer we often see dashing around Quincy Court. Her career may be cut short, though, because it is rumored that one of those handsome young lawyers there intends to change her name to his.

BARBARA FRAZIER—After breaking all speed records at Katherine Gibbs, Barbara is now teaching other young ladies to break records there.

GEORGE GALVIN—Although George is kept very busy with his duties as assistant principal at Weymouth High School, he still finds time to amuse his young twins, Polly and Paul.

MARY GAROFALO—Mary has just married her boss. This is an example of things which usually happen only in the movies.

PAUL GAUTHIER—"Gaucho" is at the height of his career as a wrestler. Next week he has a big match coming up in the Garden.

CAROLYN GILL—Carolyn is now touring the country with Fred Waring. In the near future, she hopes to get an audition for a Broadway musical show.

JAMES GILLESPIE—That rugged, good-looking Physical Education teacher at Boston University is none other than Jim Gillespie of Weymouth. He has just been offered a position as assistant coach there.

SYLVIA GLOVER—"Miss TV" of 1955 took time out from her coast to coast show last week to go on her honeymoon to Sun Valley.

DOROTHY GODFREY—The new Art Editor of "Fashion Magazine" is the youngest they have ever had, but in spite of this she is one of their most talented.

JOHN GORMAN—John has opened his own restaurant in North Weymouth. From his heavy bank deposits each week, I judge business must be thriving.

JOAN GRAHAM—Joan has just completed her new book entitled "My Ten Years in Afghanistan". It tells of her many experiences there as a missionary.

DORIS GREEN—If you see young children hurrying to school in Weymouth, you will know the reason is that they are anxious to begin classes with their favorite teacher, Miss Green.

PHYLLIS GREENBLATT—Phyllis has just returned from a nation-wide tour. She has been lecturing on a new and easier method of teaching high-school students.

RICHARD GREGOR—"Dicky Boy" is working on his "777 Specials" with which he hopes to enter the Indianapolis Speedway Contest in May.

ROBERT GUIDICE—Bob has just opened a secretarial school in Boston; the young ladies can be seen standing in front, waiting to get in for miles and miles.

KATHRINE HACKETT—I've been wondering why all people have been coming out of the office at Logan Airport? It must be that Kay is their smiling, new receptionist.

NEAL HAMILTON—Neal is now teaching biology at Windham High School after receiving his degree at Boston College. It seems he just couldn't keep away from his home state of Connecticut.

RICHARD HAMILTON—With Dick Hamilton as the new head of its advertising committee, "Yummy Crummies", that fine old cereal, has had a sales increase of 50%.

PAUL HANLEAN—Have you seen the Copley Plaza since it has been redecorated? The compliments belong to Paul Hanlan, who developed this art of decorating for C. Y. O. dances.

PAULINE HANLEAN—It was Pauline Hanlan who started the style of women's being disc jockeys. Now she is one of the best. Listen to her program on W. E. E. I. every night from 10:30 to 11:00

SALLY HANLEAN—Sally's voice can be heard whenever you dial "Information Please", but I've heard that soon she is to marry a prominent store manager.

KENNETH HANNEBURY—Ken is one of New York's leading contracters. He is working for a very famous concern. He is now planing to do over one of New York's famous night clubs.

BARBARA HANSEN—Barbara Hansen, recently graduated from a prominent modelling school, is trying to make up her mind whether to accept one of her many offers from modeling companies, or an offer from a "certain someone".

BARBARA HARDY—Why, there's Barbara Hardy busily working away for the editor of the Journal American. Yes, she is his private secretary, but it's rumored she may soon stop being a career girl and marry a well-known millionaire.

DAVID HARRIS—Did you know David has formed a band of his own and may yet become another Gene Krupa? He may be heard on many popular records of the day.

JOHN HARTY—Have you seen the new teacher of Carpentry at the Weymouth Vocational School? It is none other than Johnny.

ROBERT HARVEY—"Bert" has been a travelling salesman for Hunter's Carpentry Tools.

DOROTHY HAWES—Dotty has now become a professor at Gordon College, her old Alma Mater. Previous to this, she travelled all over the globe as a missionary.

JANET HAYDEN—Don't expect Janet Hayden to leave South Weymouth for good when she goes to California this summer as the interests on Oak Street are too strong for her to resist!

BERNARD HEALY—Say, did you know that "Brud" is now a professional basketball player for the Boston Celtics? No wonder the games are so well attended!

KATHERINE HEFFERMAN—Katherine is now working in the John Hancock Insurance Company in Boston and has increased business 100%. Did you know that all the men customers come in regularly to pay their bills in order to catch a glimpse of her!

NANCY HEMINGWAY—Nancy and her football star have just returned from their honeymoon. They are now living in a little, rose-covered cottage in Lover's Dale.

LORRAINE HERALD—Lorraine is now the number one secretary to a well-known radio executive, but she spends most of her time with a certain pitcher who plays for the Red Sox.

RICHARD HIGGINS—"Higgy" has opened a thriving garage in his hometown and is doing a good business.

HELEN HOBSON—Helen was recently voted the most popular nurse of Brockton Hospital, but it's been circulated that soon she may marry a prominent football player.

KENNETH HOLBROOK—Ken has just returned to South Weymouth, after touring the nation with his world-famous "Hell Drivers."

JAMES HORACE—Did you wonder why President Truman recovered from his recent illness so quickly? With that celebrated physician, James Horace, tending him, he couldn't fail to get better.

WILLIAM HUGHES—If you have a question on how to build a new substantial bridge, why don't you consult Bill, who has recently finished drawing up plans for a new George Washington Bridge?

DONALD HULL—Donald Hull is now the feature cartoon-artist of the "New York Tribune." He is the author of the comic strip "Trials and Tribulations of 217".

GEORGE HUSBAND— "Georgie Boy" is now happily married and is the proud parent of a beautiful set of twins.

LEROY HUSTON—After Leroy Huston graduated from Wentworth, he set up his own shop. Now he is the proud owner of a million-dollar business.

WILLIAM INGHAM—Bill Ingham is now practising dentistry. For a brighter smile (and a good-looking dentist), go quickly and make an appointment with Bill's secretary.

JEAN JACOBSON—An efficient, lovely secretary is Jean Jacobson! She has worked in town since she graduated from high school and is now the president's private secretary.

JOHN JENNINGS—John has just been named football coach of the year. His famous team, the "Weymouth Amazons", has just completed their fourth undefeated year in pro-football.

MARILYN JENSEN—Since Jensen started work at the First National Bank, all the old faithfuls have given up hope for the president's son. Who could compete with her and her lovely blond hair?

DAVID S. JOHNSON—No, being a millionaire hasn't gone to David Johnson's head. After finding his own way up the ladder of success, he is willing to help others do the same.

DAVID T. JOHNSON—Have you seen those ultra-new automobiles that were invented by none other than our own Dave T. Johnson? He is now a prosperous business man with automobile factories all over the country.

ROSALIE JUDGE—Rosie has just written a book about her adventures as a woman reporter of the "Maroon and Gold" and from all reports, the book is now one of the best sellers of the year.

WALTER KAETZER—There is another new teacher in the trade school? Who is he? Why, he is none other than "Jug" teacher of Drafting.

JOHN KALTOFEN—John is now a successful Fuller Brush salesman and travels all over the country, enchanting the housewives into buying his products. If his work continues to be so successful, he may become the president of the business.

ROBERT KEANE—"Rollo" or "Kanege" is now running a motor mart in his back yard. Come one, come all!

WILLIAM KEEFE—Bill who has just completed his four-year course at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., graduated with a degree of Bachelor of Science in engineering and a commission as ensign in the Coast Guards.

DOROTHY KELLEHER—Dotty Kelleher graduated from University of Massachusetts at the head of her class. As one of the best women doctors in the U. S. A., she has her office in New York City.

JOAN KELLEY—Whenever you're travelling through Rhode Island, why don't you look up Joan, who lives there with her husband Gene? Joan, in her spare time, helps out with the work in a local orphan home.

KENNETH KELLEY—Ken, after rescuing a family from a burning estate, has been appointed Assistant Fire Chief.

MARY KENNEDY—I hear American Airlines are on strike. They are demanding that their company get a few airline hostesses like Mary Kennedy instead of letting United Airlines get them all.

EDWARD KEOHAN—Eddie is now writing daily column in the Journal American, besides being a feature reporter for the paper. Recently he won the Pell Mell Award for notable service in the field of journalism.

ANN KERTON—It's a good thing married women are retained as teachers now. Otherwise, the third graders at Bicknell School would be broken-hearted when their dear Miss Kerton left to be married in June!

ELAINE KLINGLMAN—Have you heard about Elaine? She is now doing very well as an artist in New York City, but I've heard that she may soon wed a prominent commander and settle down to raising a family.

JOAN KNOWLES—Where is Joan? Up in the North Woods raising onions with her Al.

WAYNE LAITINEN—This renowned artist has created a comic strip relating the adventures of his latest novel, "Travel in the World's Far Corners."

HENRY LANAHAN—He is an ensign on the U.S.S. Massachusetts and has just completed his requirements for the rating of Commander.

LOIS LARSON—Lois, like the capable career girl she is, keeps the home office of the Louise Longchamps Enterprises running smoothly.

PAULINE LATTEO—After being an efficient secretary to a famous surgeon, Pauline is going to become his full-time help-mate.

JOHN LATUS—John, who was a high-honor student at Duke University, has completed graduate work in the literature field and has accepted a position on the New York Times.

GERALD LEARY—The American Champion golfer and owner of an exclusive Miami pro golf course is none other than Gerald Leary. He is on an exibition tour through out the country.

FRANCIS LEONARD—Francis is a recent graduate of the U. S. Maritime Academy and has advanced to the rank of captain for his work in capturing a syndicate of east-coast rum-runners.

NANCY LESCARBEAU—This charming young miss is happily married and has a sweet little family.

ALDRICH LIBBEY—Libbey is now a proprietor of one of the biggest used car lots in America.

ROBERT LINCOLN—The partner in the mighty Sundacoln Chicken Empire is Robert Lincoln who has returned to the small town in N. H., where his fortune was made, after marrying a certain Hingham lass.

RICHARD LITCHFIELD—Richard is a recent graduate of Massachusetts State and has been supplied with a laboratory to continue research work in the chemistry field.

LOUISE LONGCHAMPS—The well-groomed, attractive Louise is busy globe-trotting, selling her world-famous products.

MARJORIE LOUKOLA—Marj continued with the same job she had during her senior year until last month, when she became one of the season's loveliest brides.

RICHARD LUNDGREN—After being a four-year honor student in finances at Cornell, Richard has acquired part interest in a famous broker's office in Wall Street.

PHYLLIS LYDEN—Phil has reached the pinnacle of happiness and fame. She has been competing in the Olympic swimming meet for four years!

WARREN MacCALLUM—This noted author of over two score novels is now writing his latest adventure story on a cruise through the South Seas.

KATHLEEN MacDONALD—Kathleen has achieved her life-long ambition of being Supervisor of Nurses at the Boston City Hospital.

MARGARET MacDOUGALL—Margaret and her husband are managing a roller-skating rink, and it's the most popular teen-age rendevous in town.

BARBARA MACKENZIE—In addition to her material duties, Barb serves as secretary to her brilliant husband, an engineering professor.

MADELEINE MACKERTICH—Madeleine spends six months winning the world with her singing, then six months in solitude expressing herself in poetry.

JOANNE MacKINNON—The grief of Joanne's employer is unbounded for she has felt him minus a secretary to spend more time with her family.

GENEVIEVE MacLEAN—"Gennie" is running a photographic agency; she is particularly interested in taking the senior class picture of 1960.

JANET MacLEAN—The ever efficient Janet may now be found in the office of Mr. Mapes, filling out working certificates.

DOROTHY MacLEOD—Dottie is a bush pilot on the morning mail flight from Juneau to Fairbanks, Alaska.

LORRAINE MacPHERSON—Lorraine has opened her own dancing studio and is kept busy teaching the children of her former classmates.

DONALD MADDY—The World's champion golfer, Donald Maddy, has recently acquired over a million dollars for exhibitions that he expects to use in developing a pharmacist's research laboratory.

LORETTA MADDY—Lenna has just invented a new typewriter which folds compactly into pocket book size. This is a great asset, because she is constantly flying across the continent to fill assignments.

BARBARA MAPES—Barbara runs an auto-repair agency and supplies herself with business. There are a great many auto accidents down on Earth.

MARTA MAPES—Before her marriage to the editor, Marta could have been found working as head librarian in the "morgue" of the Times.

JEAN MARAGET—If you see a girl leaping down the street, it will be Jean with her new pogo-stick-walking-shoes. We predict she will go far.

BARBARA MAZZA—California, here she comes! Barbara is back in California, typing scripts for Cecil B. de Mille.

DAVID McCARTHY—Dave is one of the better garage men in the country and soon will have a business of his own.

JAMES McCLUSKEY—"Little Jim" is doing what he wanted. He's a plain seaman off the coast.

JOHN McCULLOCH—John is the lad who recently accepted the rank of captain on the Massachusetts State Police Force.

MARY McGLYNN—Have you noticed the new teacher of physical education? It's Mary McGlynn, returned to her old Alma Mater.

MARJORIE McGLYNN—Travel by bus! See the world in comfort! McGlynn's mammoth bus service will carry you anywhere.

RICHARD McINTOSH—Richard has received an invitation to represent the United States in the Olympic Games as captain of a golf team.

MALCOLM McKINNON—The diary king, Malcolm McKinnon, has developed a monopoly of the entire New England Dairy Products industry.

CHARLES McNAMEE—This enterprising classmate has acquired a vast fortune through his development of a new breed of dairy cow. He attributes his success to his training in the F. F. A.

RICHARD McRAE—Richard McRae, the noted young Boston surgeon, has recently been elected President of the American Medical Association.

LOIS MELCONDA—Did you see those adorable twins that won the baby contest? You know they inherited their beauty from their mother, who is none other than our own Lois Melconda.

MARJORIE MELVILLE—Do you know that our little blond from 22J, namely, Margie Melville, is now in Paris? She travelled by one of those new-fangled jet planes this morning. I understand she is secretary to our foreign minister there.

ROBERT MERTEN—Mert has his own print shop in South Weymouth and is teaching the little Merten's the trade.

JAMES MILLS—James is that well-known photographer for Life magazine. His pictures have helped the company tremendously.

ALFRED MONAHAN—Al is now a member of that all-important F. B. I. He has helped solve 100 crimes already this year.

JOHN MOORE—Lucky John Moore! He made so much money from his ski lodge last winter that he was able to go to the South where they call him "Florida's Playboy".

FLORENCE MORASH—Terry Morash is now the competent secretary to Mr. Whittle. She helps him keep his millions intact.

KENNETH MORASH—Ken is now in the Navy and has gained the position of captain. He is planning to make a career out of it.

GEORGE MORRIS—Mac is now Assistant Director of Athletics at Weymouth High.

NANCY MORRIS—Gee, if only I were back on earth to see Nancy and Myrone Powers in that new film, "Onward Maroons". I guess you know she won the Oscar last year.

FRED MULLEN—As of now, "Moon" is the proud possessor of a fine sheet-metal shop, where business seems successful.

RUTH NASH—Remember Ruthie Nash who was teaching grammar school? I understand she had some mighty big pupils. The other day she went and married one.

ELIZABETH NERGER—Whatever became of Betty Nerger? Why that young lady kept right in step with politics. She's none other than the first Massachusetts woman senator in Congress. They tell me she's going to introduce a new bill which will allow popcorn, chewing gum, and "cokes" at Weymouth High School.

NANCY NEVINS—There's been a new wing added to the South Shore Hospital since Nancy Nevins became nurse there. The men's ward had been so crowded that a new addition was necessary.

PATRICIA NICHOLSON—If you've read the Quincy Patriot Ledger, you'd know that the Pat Nicholson of Weymouth has become the Dorothy Dix of Quincy. Yes, she writes that new article in the Ledger, "Advice to the Love-lorn."

ROBERT NICKERSON—Bob has taken Alan Ladd's place in Hollywood. He is a big hit with the girls.

JACQUELINE NORRIS—I wish I were back at Weymouth High so that I could get a taste of some of those well-assorted meals planned by Miss Skala and her new assistant, Jackie Norris.

NANCY NORWOOD — Nancy Norwood went through college undecided as to her future, but fate stepped in and now she's setting up competition for Miss Palmer by teaching Spanish in 221.

MILDRED NYBERG—Mildred, who has always liked chemistry, is one of the girls in the chemistry department of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

CATHERINE O'CONNELL—I'll never forget Cathy O'Connell. She was so sweet that "Page and Shaw" made her secretary to their large concern.

WILLIAM O'CONNELL—William, who has completed the requirements for a teacher, is waiting for an opening at W. H. S. He is scheduled to start teaching next year.

DANIEL O'DONNELL—Danny is now an important lawyer in Weymouth. His salary averages $300 a week—sometimes.

JEAN O'LEARY—Jeany with the dark brown hair has walked into the limelight as one of Jordan Marsh's prominent models.

PATRICIA ORCUTT—Pat Orcutt got herself right into the pages of Life when she out-raced Shirley Gay Dance in their swim across the English Channel.

WILLIAM ORCUTT—Bill is playing for the Boston Symphony and is scheduled to do a solo in New York next week.

MARY LOU PACE—Little Mary Lou Pace, who always was fond of sewing, didn't waste much time in "mending" her way to a certain Weymouth boy's heart.

RICHARD PACE—Dick is the hard-working lad at Lovell's Corner, where he is uniting all grocery stores in that area.

EDWIN PARSONS—Ed is working for Western Union. Since he left Weymouth High, he gained the speed of 150 words per minute.

FRANCIS PAYNE—Fran is now working for the New Haven Railroad. His salary isn't much over $100 a week, but he still likes his work.

WILLIAM PAYNE—William now owns his own chemistry plant and is receiving a salary of $400 per week.

JANET PEERS—Have you seen the new sewing teacher at Weymouth High this year? They tell me her name is Janet Peers.

LAWRENCE PELRINE—Lawrence is now a buyer in Filene's and has increased their income $2,000 per day.

ELIZABETH PEPE—Petite Betty Pepe is the efficient secretary to one of the judges at the Quincy Court House. Her kindness has won the hearts of every policeman.

KENNETH PERKINS—Ken is now playing for the Red Sox and has a good chance of becoming the rookie of the year.

ROBERT PERROW—Bob is now playing professional football, and he has a chance of becoming the outstanding centre of the year.

HUGH PETERS—Hugh, who has had experience with landscaping, has established his own firm, and is doing very well.

KENNETH PETERSON—Ken is now a sergeant in the Army. Because of his alert thinking and action, he is getting another promotion.

HOWARD PFLAUMER—Bert is the new school carpenter.

ROBERT PILLSBURY—I picked up the newspaper the other day and read a full page story on the Pillsbury vs. "King Arthur" decision. Bob, you know, is that famous lawyer who brought to justice the underworld's "King Arthur", the slayer in the John Doe case.

DORIS PINEL—You remember Doris, don't you? She met her husband at a fraternity dance while she was in college. Now she is happily married and has her own little family.

ROBERTA PLUMMER—The other day I saw Roberta. She seems very happy in her work as a typist for a large publishing company in Boston.

HAROLD PORTER—"A small dairy farm in Maine" was Harold's dream in high school. To look at him now, I'd say it was one dream that really materialized.

JOAN POTTS—Joan went into training and became a registered nurse. Now she finds her training valuable, caring for her own home and family.

RICHARD POWERS—See that cloud of dust down there. That's Dick, defending the highways and byways of Massachusetts in the uniform of the state police.

PRISCILLA PRANG—Be sure to see that new roller-skating show that is coming to Boston soon. Priscilla is one of a clever skating duet that holds the audience spell bound with its intricate routine.

ALAN PRATT—Buddy has organized a taxi-cab stand in the Lower Square where business is picking up.

GEORGE PRATT—Many an air force pilot owes his life to George and his ability at the controls of aviation radar.

MIRIAM PRIGGEN—Miriam is the other half of the skating duet. Miriam and Priscilla have been skating together since high school days—a reason why they perform so well together.

JOHN PROSSER—John has just completed his third expedition to the South Pole. I asked John what his plans were he replied, "I think that in a few years I'll retire to Mrs. Prosser and the 'tribe'!"

RALPH PULLO—It seems as though the whole Class of '50 has made good. Ralph Pullo, that brilliant research pharmacist, has just invented a soluble substitute for synthetic salami.

LOUIS PUOPOLO—Have you been to a Puopolo Food Market recently? Louis, you know, is general manager, first-class, of that famous chain of Puopolo Food Mkts., Inc.

VALIA PUOPOLO—No one in the Class of '50 need look for a job, thanks to the first red-haired woman president in the White House. Valia brought back the "Spoils System" when she went into office. She has done very well for herself in politics.

JOHN PURDY—"Purd" is doing a great deal of fishing down around Hull. I wonder if he is going to open a "Fish and Chips" stand down that way.

JOHN RAPLES—John is now head mechanic at a large furniture warehouse in New York.

PHYLLIS RENEHAN—Phyllis became a secretary to a top executive. He admired her efficiency so much that now they are married.

ROY RICHARDS—If the cold barren wastes of Alaska look uncommonly green to you, credit Roy and his service in the Forestry Department.

BERNARD RILEY—I'll bet when Riley said he was going to make a career out of the army, he didn't think he would ever be —General Riley.

RICHARD ROBERT—Tune in any Tuesday night at 9:30 and listen to Pierre Roberts and his "Singing Swinet."

THOMAS ROBERTSON—Tom had said a disk-jockey show was his all. But he was wrong, as you can plainly see, for look at him now. Why, he has a dozen shows and sponsors by the score.

FRANCIS ROBINSON—Frank's business is flourishing so wonderfully that it's simply "out of this world". Frank is one of the finest morticians in the country and a loyal and faithful friend—at least he will be the last person to let you down.

MARGARET ROBINSON—Nurse Peggy has the patients bursting out in merry smiles, at the Boston City Hospital. She's kept even busier, assisting a couple of surgeons, both named John, with their operations.

ROBERT ROWELL—It seems that Bob's doing all right for himself, as president of the country's leading electrical engineering company.

CORINNE RUSHTON—Remember Connie? Well, for several years she had a position as secretary in a doctor's office. Now she's married to a handsome "M. P.".

RICHARD RUSSO—Look at Dick. He has a gilt edge job as athletic instructor in a midwestern high school, where the Board of Education doesn't care if the football team doesn't win a Class "A" title, year in and year out.

ELIZABETH SANDSTROM — Betty has worked her way up from a salesgirl to a buyer in a fashionable Fifth Avenue dress shop. You can see her at all the style shows, taking notes on the latest fashions.

ELSIE SAUNDERS—Bonnie, that girl whose greatest love is sports, has attained her main desire—to be a physical education teacher. Her wonderful personality accounts for the increased number of girls taking gym.

CORINNE SCHULER—Have you seen the smart new personnel manager in Remick's? Her smile makes the whole store brighter. Remick's is a lucky store to have Betty.

MARIE SEVERE—I saw Marie's picture on the latest issue of "Look". She's one of the most popular models in New York. We'll be seeing her soon in Hollywood.

NORMAN SHAW—Have you been to M. I. T. lately? If you have, you would have noticed that illustrious teacher of Advanced Electronics, Weymouth's own Norman Shaw. B. A., S. Ph. D., V. V., XYZ, Esq.

RICHARD SHEA—Have you noticed that the Boston Globe has much better pictures now than they had when we were down there reading it? The reason? Dick's their No. 1 crime photographer.

JAMES SHERMAN—Jimmy is now a State policeman, patroling the highways. He spends most of his time trying to get his son back into Weymouth Vocational School.

JOHN SHORES—"Whackey" has just completed a series of books (of his Western experiences.) for the Bantam Book Company.

RONALD SHORT—There's a man who has made a niche for himself in the earthly world: a good job, a new home, and a loving wife with two cute kids.

MARIELLE SIMPSON—Another reason for seeing that rollerskating show is its petite star, Marielle. She has that same grace and charm off the ice that she has on skates.

PATRICIA SIMPSON—Girls, if you want a professional wave, Pat is the one to go to see. She has her own beauty salon and is doing very well.

BARKOV SIROONIAN—"Buddy" is touring the country in an effort to "drum up" more business for his band. He is financing also the building of a huge ballroom because he says Yankee Stadium is becoming too small for public appearances.

JOAN SLAYTER—Joan is now an office supervisor of a large insurance firm in Boston. Because of her understanding ways, she is very popular with the girls under her.

GEORGE SMART—Herb is that celebrated multi-millionaire that you might see around town. He is that famous fiction novelist whose books are read in the four corners of the earth.

IRIS SMITH—Iris became an airline hostess. On a flight, the plane stopped at Colorado and Iris liked the country so well she stayed. More reasons for her staying are a husband, a ranch, and a range of beautiful horses.

ROBERT SMITH—Have you noticed those jet-planes keep getting closer to us all the time. Well, I've got it on good authority that Smith's the leader of that group, a chief test pilot for one of their commercial companies, ELIZABETH SMYTH—Betty is now a stenographer for a properous business establishment in Paris. Incidentally, I heard that she will soon settle down to rearing a business firm of her own.

SANDRA STEVENS—After graduating from Leslie College, Sandra became a first grade teacher at the Hunt School. The children love her. I heard that since she's been there, the little boys do everything they can to stay after school.

TOM STILING—Tom is earnestly striving to be a second Tom Edison. His latest is a portable "walkie-talkie" unit that requires no electricity. It's becoming extremly popular in school room study halls.

JEAN SUHOVICH—Jean is another of the Class of '50's nurses. She's as busy as a bee everyday working with her patients at St. Ann's Hospital.

EDWARD SULLIVAN—Since we left the old world, it has been a lot safer from crime. Not because we left, mind you, but because Ed is a police detective with many a would-be perfect crime to his credit.

JOANNE SULLIVAN—Joanne is a member of the Home Economics Division of the State Extension Board. Through her work she helps housewives run their homes more efficiently.

CHARLES SUNDIN — I don't know who took care of our poultry needs when we were on Earth, but we can plainly see that Charlie's doing all right in that direction with his New England poultry farm.

ANN TAMBURINO—Ann always was a great baseball fan so everyone expected her to marry a ballplayer. Her husband plays for Philadelphia, and every day she watches the games from along the first base line.

HARRY TASSELL—How do you like that bridge they have just built across the Atlantic! Pretty keen, I'd say. And if it weren't for the initiative of Harry, they would still be using the old-fashioned water route.

PATRICIA TAYLOR—Pat is happiest among her test tubes and blood samples. She is now a laboratory technician at the South Shore Hospital.

FRANKLIN THOMPSON — The Saturday Evening Post is as popular now as it was in our time, but the cover illustrations are a lot better. The credit for that goes to Franklin who is truly the Norman Rockwell of today.

JOANNA THOMPSON—Joanna has made a name for herself in the retailing business. She is a top buyer for a successful Boston clothing store for women.

AGNES TIRRELL—I listened in on a call to Northeast Airlines for a reservation. Who answered the phone but Agnes! She's the efficient secretary who keeps things running smoothly in the front office.

DAVID TIRRELL—Dave has been flying around in his rocket ship, photographing planets and asteroids in outer space. He is attempting to fulfill his lifelong ambition which is photgraphing the "green cheese" in the moon.

JOHN FERRELL—John is the geologist who is leading the expedition that is exploring the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, which is now a dry basin set off by Ray Tobey's trans-atlantic dams.

MALCOLM FERRELL—Mackey has had a "tough" time getting started in his business, but it is beginning to be better.

RAYMOND TOBEY—Do you know why your electricity is cheaper? Well, I'll tell you. It's cheaper because of the tremendous hydro-electric power furnished by the trans-oceanic dams at each end of the Atlantic Ocean. That famous engineer, Ray Tobey, built the dams and removed the water, of course.

BARBARA TUKIS—Dr. Tukis is New York's leading psychiatrist. Her success springs from the genuine interest in people she has had ever since her high-school days.

LAURA TUTTLE—Laura has gained great success as the hairdresser who designs the coiffures worn by the actresses in the great Broadway hits. The current hair-do sweeping the country is one of her creations.

ARTHUR VALICENTI — Remember in high school how wonderful we thought the ballplayers were then? Now look at Art! Why, he overshadows them all!

WILLIAM VEADER—In his senior year he told a member of the Prophecy Committee all he wanted to do was travel. Well, he's travelling all right, as the best travelling salesman on the road.

WILLIAM WAGER—Bill has just been promoted to Captain in the U. S. Navy and is off for the Arctic.

JANET WAITE—Janet has surprised all seers by becoming an airline hostess for Trans-American Airlines. She should be quite contented, for all sweet angels belong in the clouds.

IRVING WALLING—Irv is now first class, number-one-quality Certified Public Accountant. In addition to this, he is "drumming" his way to further success with his celebrated band.

BARBARA WALSH—Barbara is captain of a girl's basketball team currently barnstorming the country. This fast forward has burned up courts in every state of the nation.

CLAIRE WALSH—If you have occasion to dine out some evening, try Claire's Cafeteria and Colosseum. You can't miss it; it's the largest restaurant in Boston.

ELLEN WARD—I see that Ellen has found the right man. She worked for three years as a secretary and then married one of her boss's clients.

EDWIN WARRELL—Eddie is now the general manager of the country's largest railroad. Undoubtedly, he obtained this position through his outstanding track ability.

BARBARA WATTS—"Barb" is secretary for a large business firm in New York. As you might expect, the firm itself is a branch of Western Electric.

ANN WEISLINGER — The newest and brightest star in the singing world is Ann. She thrills audiences from coast to coast on her Tuesday night television show.

BARBARA WEST—Probably it is due to her great interest in sports; in any case, Barb is now interested in rearing her own basketball team.

NANCY WHITEHALL—I see where Nancy entered the nursing profession. She went in training at the Deaconness Hospital. She's an R.N. now, and a very good one, too.

BARRY WOOD—Barry is now head pharmacist at Reidy's Drug Store in Jackson Square. He hopes to set himself up in business soon.

BERNARD WRIGHTINGTON—Bernie is now Registrar of Motor Vehicles in Massachusetts.

JANET WYMAN—Virtually all of the present Weymouth teaching staff seems to have sprung from the Class of '50. Janet is another girl who, after college, became a grammar school teacher. She is well liked by her pupils.

PAUL XAVIER—See down there in South Carolina; there's a person who need never worry about his whereabouts in this world. For any person who's willing to give his life to the task of being a missionary is assured of a lofty cloud all to himself.

WINGS

Joan Fairman Graham

WE, the graduating class of 1950, are setting out to build our futures at a turning point in history—the middle of the twentieth century. We have before us the task of making the next fifty years more profitable and more worthwhile than those that have just expired. It would be well for us to turn back the pages of history and discover what progress has been made in certain fields.

Let us consider aviation. Before the twentieth century, the airplanes, which we take for granted today, were but a fantastic dream—but a dream that has become a reality. Men worked on the problem of human flight for uncounted centuries before achieving it. The first human flight on record occurred outside Paris in 1783 in a hydrogen-filled balloon. Before that, men had tried to fly, but had failed. Leonardo da Vinci, and others like him, had designed and planned crafts with no success. During the nineteenth century, a vogue for flapping-wing and balloon experiments grew up. A patent was issued in 1889 to one R. J. Spaulding for wings to be fitted to the arms and legs of man; and as late as 1930, the same idea was used in experiments. Men were so eager to discover the principles governing the air that they risked their very lives in innumerable ways.

At the beginning of the twentieth century, the culmination of man's attempt to fly in a vehicle that was heavier than air came when, in 1903, Wilbur and Orville Wright made the first flight, utilizing engine power and having a pilot at the controls.

The machine flew for twelve seconds and travelled one hundred and twenty feet. True, that does not seem like such a great achievement to us, but at that time it was almost a miracle. Later in the day, however, a strong gust of wind caught their flimsy machine, turned it over end, and damaged it badly, but the Wright Brothers were satisfied— they had proved their theory.

Even at that early date in the progresss of aviation, there was no lack of competition. One of the Wright Brothers' rivals was Samuel Pierpont Langley. For seventeen years, he had aspired to construct an aircraft that would carry man. In his final effort to achieve success, he launched his aircraft from the top of a houseboat in the Potomac River. It had been launched unsuccesslully before, and this time, too, it crashed, carrying Langley's dream of conquest of the air with it.

Building on the principles used by the Wright Brothers and others, the inventors in the years that followed advanced the airplane with progressive refinement, until, before the outbreak of World War I, speeds began to approach

SOCIAL SERVICE

Sandra M. Stevens

Social Service, which has as the ultimate goal the fullest possible development of individuals, deals with the art of living. This work aims to help people lead a richer life, although the aid is sometimes refused by those who do not understand the purpose.

In 1875, a society for rehabilitation made its appearance in Boston, the society now known as the "Community Workshop". Later a more complete organization was realized in the "Associated Charities Society", which rendered all types of service.

As time brought us to the twentieth century, we found more interest being shown in this work. In the early 1920's the word "charities" was omitted from the name and the service received the title of "Association of Improving Conditions of the Poor". During the years of 1929-1939, much help was provided those who were victims of the long Depression Period. Not until the early 1940's was the standard "Family Service Society" formed and accepted.

Contary to the former concept of social work, which was thought to be only for the poverty-stricken, it has now fortunately been recognized as a necessity for all in modern living. For advancement, Social Service seems to insure the progressive system that exists in America. One should realize that he has every right to make use of the numerous benefits offered in his community. Today, the various societies are making great efforts to raise all standards of living—spiritual, moral, and intellectual. There is undeniable truth in what Ralph H. Blanchard, President of the 1949 National Conference of Social Work, stated: "Not independence, but interdependence, is a key word among communities as well as among nations".

The problems encountered in the field are many, but among those of greatest importance that demand increasing attention are Medical Care, Mental Health, and Family Service. An "extra-mural" program is now in operation at the Montefiore Hospital, New York, having been started in 1947. Under this plan, hospital care is administered at home; particularly the poor profit by receiving expert medical treatment. Social work plays a major part in the successful fulfillment of this home-care program; if favorable conditions are established, the hospitals are relieved of many cases. In connection with this experimental project, social workers are encouraging the belief that patients often recover in their own homes more quickly. Happiness for the patient, the element essential for a speedy recovery, is often thus achieved.

American trade, for the principles of International Law permitted the capture of any vessel carrying contraband to a belligerent or blockaded port.

Since Great Britain controlled the seas and forced all shipping into her ports to prevent any goods from reaching Germany, the Kaiser retaliated in 1915 by announcing that any vessel entering the so-called "war zone" around the British Isles would be sunk. The only means of carrying out the threat was submarine warfare. The resulting loss of human life as the Germans torpedoed our ships led to a series of protests from President Wilson; and Congress, upon the recommendation of the President, declared war upon Germany. Thus the policy of America led up to the successful termination of World War I.

After victory, the United States, under the leadership of President Wilson, began the struggle for a permanent peace. The League of Nations was formed at Paris providing for the prevention of future wars, but Wilson, though victorious in war, was defeated in peace as the Convenant of the League was rejected by the Senate.

Without the active participation and support of the United States, the League, as the years went by, proved unable to cope with the serious threats to world peace; this first attempt at world government gradually lost its power and prestige.

After the inauguration of Franklin Delano Roosevelt in 1933, the United States took a new stand in foreign relations with South America, replacing our "Big Brother" policy by the "Good Neighbor" policy. While in the Orient, our relations with Japan became steadily worse, finally culminating in the successful prosecution of another World War.

In August 1941, President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, Prime Minister of England, met off the coast of Newfoundland to draw up the Atlantic Charter, the first link in the chain that was destined to be the world's new peace organization, the United Nations. This document, containing the principles of freedom, was later to serve as a foundation for a better, peaceful world.

At the end of World War II, the United Nations was formed. Immediately, the hopes of the whole world rose and the new organization was looked upon as the final solution to world peace. Soviet Russia set up what Winston Churchill termed an "Iron Curtain," maintaining complete isolation and continually blocking all attempts of the United Nations to regulate such vital problems as the control of atomic power by her abuse of the veto.

Thus again the hopes of the world for an effective international government were stymied. Instead of the "One World" envisioned by Wendell Wilkie, now in 1950 we have a world divided into two hostile camps, both of which are torn and ravaged by the "Cold War".

What will be the eventual outcome, no one today would dare prophesy. In the words of Secretary of State Acheson: "The United States is ready, as it has been and always will be, to co-operate in genuine efforts to find peaceful settlements. Our attitude is not inflexible, our opinions are not frozen, our positions are not and will not be obstacles to peace. But it takes more than one to co-operate . . . We are always ready to discuss, to negotiate, to agree . . . We want peace but not at any price . . . "

THE FOREIGN POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES

Marta Mapes

From earliest history, foreign policies and foreign relations have played a vital role in the progress and development of countries of the world. The United States has been no exception. The infant nation, notwithstanding President Washington's best efforts to keep it aloof from foreign entanglements, soon became involved in world politics.

In the first years of the young republic, our policy was almost entirely one of isolation and neutrality, although, inevitably, because of interference with our foreign shipping, we were drawn into the War of 1812. Following the issuance of the Monroe Doctrine in 1823, however, we enjoyed three quarters of a century of virtual freedom, aloof from the rest of the world.

At the end of the nineteenth century, Secretary of State John Hay, in co-operation with President McKinley, changed our traditional policy, for, although still continuing along the road of non-interference with European and Asiatic countries, we began to take a much closer interest in affairs of the Western Hemisphere. Thus the United States began a new foreign policy which was based upon the expansion theory.

Under this policy and as a result of the Spanish-American War, the United States became responsible for the welfare of Cuba, the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, and Guam. Suddenly it was realized that we were now faced with the problem of managing distant and heavily populated countries, whose ways and customs were vastly different from ours.

With the opening of the twentieth century, although still maintaining the idea of isolation, the United States, now a growing world power, sent strong delegations to the Hague Conference in 1904. Undoubtedly, a few years before, America would not have participated in the meetings, declaring no interest in disarmament and European affairs. Now, because of our world-power policy, we assisted in the setting up of a Court of Arbitration, before which nations were able to present disputes and obtain peaceful settlements.

The over-all foreign policy of the American people has ever been based upon a love for peace. All previous wars were fought in the hope that permanent peace would be possible. Therefore the United States, convinced that our intervention in Europe would do little good, tried her best to remain neutral in the trying years of 1914, 1915, and 1916.

This neutrality was very difficult to maintain because of interference with one hundred miles per hour. Airplane flights thousands of feet into the air became commonplace. During the years of World War I, the history of aviation became the history of military flying. Then, in 1919, with the impetus to research given aeronautics by the war, there began fresh peacetime attempts to achieve new goals. Endurance records were made and broken. Speeds went up and kept on gaining. Public consciousness was impressed with the value of the airplane.

World War II gave the same incentive for constructing bigger and better planes as did World War I. From a half-dozen aircraft plants that survived the termination of wartime contracts in 1918, the aircraft manufacturing industry in the wartime years of the 1940's grew into a business, encompassing dozens of huge factories which employed more persons than any other industry in the United States. Today, airplanes accomplish feats that were undreamed of fifty years ago.

But what of the future? What part will aviation play in the years that lie ahead? This "dream" of half a century ago has become an integral part of our lives that will affect each and every one of us; but we must not stop here—we must go on, and add to the progress made by those who have gone before us. We must make a place for ourselves, not only in this field, but in many others. Although our task will be difficult, with God's help we can make the world a better place in which to live. We have no strength in ourselves; only through faith and trust in God can we accomplish anything really worthwhile. May we fulfill the words of the Prophet Isaiah:

"But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

Today the general tendency sanctions the theory that chronic diseases will multiply. As Margaret B. Ryder said at the 1919 Conference, "Medical science saves the chronically ill, but society has not yet solved the problem of caring for them."

Social workers realize more and more the responsibility they undertake in nursing-home placement. Not only will their decisions deeply affect the contentment of the patient, but also the satisfaction of his family; for, although a nursing-home is licensed, that fact does not always guarantee its worth. Social workers should not merely assign a person to any home, but should choose one particularly adapted to the individual needs. In order to insure proper treatment after placement, the workers must keep in contact with the nurses for the well-being of their patients.

Another serious problem in this field concerns the mentally sick. Following World War I, social agencies discovered a new opening in their ever-broadening range-psychiatric work. These humanitarian societies found that shell-shock was not always caused from physical breakdown. Again in World War II, social workers contributed their share to the war effort by aiding the government in elimination of those who were not material for actual duty. That which resulted from the latter was the personal guidance engaged to discern aptitudes and to find suitable positions.

To cope with the urgent need of mental clinics, many partime clinics have been set up. As the majority of communities are too small or are without sufficient funds for a regular clinic, this scheme provides an adequate substitute.

Family relationship also constitutes another phase of social work. The survival of the family depends greatly upon changes made to meet the various needs. The words of the late Ruth Benedict, famed anthropologist, reflect the genuine belief of modern authorities, "Amidst all troubles, the family remains the most stable institution we have." It can be easily noticed that in the previously mentioned problems, home and family life act as the main ingredient in the united living. To admit the truth is hard sometimes, but for our future welfare we must acknowledge the fact that too much emphasis, placed upon gainful jobs and careers, has reduced the worth of homemaking. It is an art to be proud to accomplish. Formerly, the only Social Serice for the family in emergencies was the mutual aid of neighbors; with that as a beginning we have built up our present system.

Perhaps, since many of us are not acquainted with the Family Service Society that was established in our town about eight years ago, it might be well to mention the splendid work being achieved. Such an agency, wholly supported by the Community Fund, has done a great deal in the field of social welfare.

No other statement can better describe that for which we are striving than that of the renowned American general and reformer, Carl Schurz, "Ideals are like the stars. We never reach them, but like the mariner of the sea we guide our course by them".

The first fifty years of the twentieth century have passed. We have mentioned many points of progress, trying to show the great advances made in the field of Aviation, in our Foreign Policy, and in Social Service.

Reflector

The Reflector staff has completed another busy, but enjoyable, year of publishing the quarterly magazine of Weymouth High School. Although the yearbook is the staff's most important task to be accomplished, no less enthusiasm is devoted to the regular issues. We are justly proud of the Reflector, and are constantly striving to improve its quality. You, the student body, are largely responsible for its success since it is upon your contributions and ideas that the Reflector is built.

The Southeastern Massachusetts League of School Publications adds a great deal of interest and pleasure to our work. Two meetings were held this year, the first at Dedham on March 2 and the second at East Bridgewater on May 3.

There is not a more opportune time than now to express our sincere appreciation for the helpful support of the pupils, of the teachers, and of the untiring assistance of our faculty advisers, Mr. Brown, Miss White, Miss Silvester, and Mr. Steele, and our printing instructor, Mr. Duncan.

Student Council

In addition to performing regular duties by assisting in organizing the lunchroom and fire drills, the Student Council sponsored the annual Victory Dance on December 2, 1949. Student Council members also participated in many assemblies during the year.

On April 12, 1950, delegates and representatives attended a very successful Spring Convention of the Southeastern Branch of Associated Bodies of Student Council of Massachusetts at Somerset High School. Reverend Lex King Souter, minister of the First Congregational Church of Fall River, was the main speaker of the day.

Best wishes for a successful year are extended to the Student Council members of the year 1950-1951.

Officers for 1949-1950 were:

President—Frank Boyle

Vice-President—Audrey Brown

Secretary—Doris Donaldson

Band

The Weymouth High School Band, under the capable direction of Mr. Russell H. Jack, has completed another successful year. The many activities included playing at the football games and taking part in the Winter and Spring Concerts. The Band also attended the State Festival in Worcester, Massachusetts, and the New England Festival in Rutland, Vermont.

The officers are: Donald Ferguson, president; Donald Perkins, vice-president; Peter Bisognano, secretary; Roberta Spain, treasurer; and Barbara Crowell and Nancy Larsen, librarians.

Six new members were added to the majorettes, who were under the able direction of Nancy Hemingway and Joan Desmond. Mr. Walter Smith, drill master, supervised the intricate drilling of the eighty-two members of the Band, with great success.

Orchestra

This past year the orchestra received six new violins, which were greatly appreciated. During the orchestra periods there was sight-reading, as well as rehearsals of the concert selections. Among the favorites were: "Calif of Bagdad", "Overture of Overtures", "Jalousie", and "Dancing in the Dark".

Six members of the orchestra took part in the New England Concert Festival held in Springfield, Massachusetts.

First row: Lola Humphries, Althea Campbell, Shirley Ann Sullivan, Judith Grenier, Leah Whitman, Marcia Hannifan, Jean Peterson, Mary Lou Gilligan, Antonetta DiFazio, Eleanor Parsons, Grace Studer, Evelyn Sanderson. Choir

The Choir, composed of over eighty members, has spent a successful year. They attended the State Festival at Attleboro; and the New England Festival at Rutland, Vermont. Four members attended the New England Concert Festival at West Springfield for five days. The Choir participated in two concerts: the Winter Concert in February, and the Spring Concert in May.

All members wish to thank Mr. Jack for providing so many interesting and enjoyable programs.

Senior Play

On February 9th and 10th, the class of '50 presented the popular comedy "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, under the able and patient direction of Miss Edna Flaherty.

Cheer Leaders

The cheer leaders this past year have lived up to their usual reputation as being the best on the South Shore, having led cheers at all the football and basketball games.

The captains this year were Nancy Morris, Marie Severe, and Phyllis Lyden.

The additions to the group were Joanne MacKinnon, Barbara Mapes, Peggy MacDougall, Natalie Loud, Lois Terry, and Joan Williams.

This year's substitutes, who filled in when one of the regulars was not present, were: Barbara Barton, Marjorie Daniels, and Thelma Sprague.

Football

THE 1949 football team of the Weymouth High School had one of the most successful seasons in the school's history. A ten-game, undefeated regular season, highlighted by defeats of such perennially strong Class "A" teams as Everett, Somerville, and Brockton, earned the team the first post-season bowl game that any South Shore team has ever received. As a reward the team was sent on a testimonial trip to Washington, D. C. and Florida.

At this time, the footbal squad would like to express gratitude to all those who made such an enjoyable trip possible.

Record:

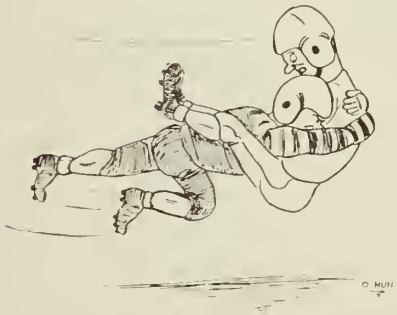
Weymouth 6	Saugus 7



First row: Robert Gerrier, John Gannon, Frank Boyle, Bernard Healy, Warren Knight; Second row: Mr. Erwin, William White, Phillip O'Connell, William Sprague, Norman Wright, James Kane.

Basketball

The basketball team had a six-win, seven-loss record; four of the losses were by just four points or less. With just one varsity member graduating, next year's team should be a top-rate combination. A game was played at the Boston Arena against Portsmouth, New Hampshire, the eventual New Hampshire state champion. It took the out-of-staters until the last minute of the game to pull out a scanty two-point victory margin.

Cross Country

The cross-country team of 1950, although lacking in depth, had the individuals to carry the team to a fairly successful season. They finished high in the South Shore Meet, the State Meet, and the New England Meet.

Track

Weymouth had a highly successful track indoor season, under the able leadership of Coach Page. The dual met record was two wins, one loss. Weymouth finished fifth in the North Eastern Meet, second in the State Meet, seventh in the New England Meet, and then went to Brunswick, Maine where a tie for first in the Bowdoin Interscholastics was gained. With the addition of new boys out for spring track, an even more successful season is expected.

Baseball

This year's baseball team, although lacking in experience in some spots, seems prepared for a highly successful season. With a nucleus of four players from last year's team, Coach Arlanson has the suffucient material to form a winning team.

The schedule is as follows:
April 22 at Milton Academy
April 25 at Brockton
May 2 at North Quincy
May 5 at Randolph
May 12 at Braintree
May 16 at Brockton
May 19 at Randolph
May 23 at Braintre
May 29 at Hingham
May 31 at North Quincy
June 1 at Hingham

French Club

The French Club this year has again sponsored many activities. Under Miss Canning's supervision, the French Club, combined with the Spanish Club, had a successful Christmas party. The club has also continued its support of a French orphan.

The meetings, conducted in French, have proved both entertaining and educational. The following were the officers for the year:

President—Marta Mapes
Vice-President—Elsie Saunders
Secretary—Elaine Bowser
Treasurer—Frederick J. Spencer

The entire French Club wishes to extend its thanks to Miss Canning for her help and willingness in making this year's club so interesting. We the members sincerely hope that the future French Clubs will have as much pleasure as we have had.

Spanish Club

This past year the Spanish Club has continued to make progress steadily under the excellent supervision of Miss Palmer, assisted by Miss Waterman. During the year, the attendance has been exceptionally good. The programs were very interesting and all seemed to enjoy the entertainment, some of which included listening to Spanish records, learning to dance the "raspa", a popular Spanish dance, and playing other popular Spanish games. We were also fortunate to have with us at one of the meetings, Mr. H. Dana Strother from Marshfield Hills, Massachusetts, who gave a lecture and showed a film of the different customs and the picturesque parts of Mexico. A combined Christmas party was held in the library by the members of the Spanish and French Clubs. The officers for the past year were:

President, Ann Kerton
Vice-President, Joan DiBona
Secretary, Joan Knowles
Treasurer, Carol Bentley
Committee Chairman, Barbara Belcher

We all hope that the club of next year will enjoy participating in this organization as we have.

First row: Marjorie Bender, Beatrice Noyes, Bernice Valenti, Audrey Thayer, Clifford Currier, Pres., Barbara Walsh, Secretary, Elsie Saunders, Treasurer, Janet Buchanan, Assistant SSecretary, Anne Murphy, Second row: Marie Severe, Loretta Maddy, Barbara Breen, Carolyn Holbrook, Elizabeth Neiger, Janet Bergfors, Betsy Buchanan, Ella Mae Mountanland, Diane Cushing; Third row: Mr. Paul Cleaves, Adviser, Cynthia Wormald, Carol Trueman, Sandra Crawford, Dorothy Webster, Jane Whitman, Jane Adams, Priscilla Hollander, Ellen Livingstone, Doris Wirtz, Mildred Nyberg, Miss Louise Hill, Adviser;Fourth row: Raymond DuBois, James Campbell, Donald Gay, James MacLeish, Karl Anderson, John Riordan, David Zemina, John Bates, Donald Coleman; Fifth row: John Tirrell, James Mills, Paul Nerger, Clifford Rand, and David Tirrell.

Ski Club

This past year the Ski Club, under the direction of Miss Hill and Mr. Cleaves, began immediately with a large attendance. Movies on skiing were shown at the meetings.

Whenever there was snow, the members met and went to Stony Brae for an afternoon's fun.

On March 4th, starting in the wee hours of the morning, the club enjoyed an all-day trip to Sunapee, New Hampshire. The weather and snow conditions were perfect. Soon Wey- mouthites could be seen flying down the slopes. Two casualities and several ski-ing-hours later, a tired, but happy, group returned to Weymouth.

The Club would like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Hill and Mr. Cleaves for their assistance in making our season a success.

Audio-Visual Club

The Audio-Visual Aids Club, which is under the direction of Mr. Paul C. Cleaves and the management of Robert Hanson, '51, assisted by Neil Patt, '51, consists of over forty-five members. The chief duty of these members is to aid teachers to present a more interesting and effective means of education through th use of motion pictures, filmstrips, lantern slides, recordings, and other teaching aids.

All members of the club are trainedin the operation of the equipment; and when the training period is completed, the members are given official licenses to operate the machines on which they have been tested and approved by Mr. Cleaves.

Members are trained to show motion pictures, and to operate wax recording, and tape recording machines which are used to record voices in language classes and provide the sound effects for plays and school assemblies.

Two senior secretaries, Hazel Blenis and Barbara Fox, are largely responsible for the successful operation of the club. All orders, confirmations, cancellations, shipping data, film data, and reports of use are effectively controlled by them in co-ordinating the use of all audio-visual aids in the schools.

Camera Club

The Camera Club has had a successful year under the able direction of Mr. Ghiorse.

During the year the activities of the club have been work sessions, demonstrations, outings, and socials. Members have learned how to do their own developing and printing. Room 303 has been used as the club dark room.

In the fall the club made and sold pictures of football subjects. The money acquired from the sale of these pictures was used to purchase darkroom equipment, including a 4 x 5 enlarger, two print boxes, trays, tanks, and chemicals. The support of the school was appreciated by the club.

A mid-winter contest was held. The Grand Prize winner was Dean Blackwell; other prize winners were: David Tirrell, Eleanor Hughes, David Fisher, and Elliot Binley.

The Camera Club took part in the Library Open House and the Science Fair with appropiate displays. Officers for the past year were:

Raymond Tobey '50, President
David Tirrell '50, Vice-President
Dean Blackwell '50, Treasurer
Betty Marin '52, Secretary

Front row: Doris Green, Madeleine Mackertich, Joan Graham; Back row: Francis Payne, Mr. Martin.

Oratorical Contestants

The Weymouth American Legion Post 79 sponsored the annual oratorical contest on February 7, 1950, at Legion Hall.

The four contestants who took part chose the following subjects:

Joan Graham—"Our Constitution—Worth Having, Worth Defending."
Doris Green—"The American Bill of Rights."
Francis Payne—"Our Constitution—Worth Having, Worth Defending."
Madeleine Mackertich—"The Constitution—Temple of Liberty."

The winner of this year's contest was Madeline Mackertich; Francis Payne was chosen as runner-up.

The judges were:

Mr. Prescott Brown, Weymouth High School.
Mrs. Alma Driscoll, Bicknell School.
Miss Virginia Nye, Weymouth High School.
Miss Mary Toomey, Weymouth High School.
Miss Alice White, Weymouth High School

As our high-school days draw to an end, we, the members of the Class of 1950, wish to express our gratitude to the school committee and the superintendent, to the principals and faculty for their patient supervision throughout our years at Weymouth High School. As a token of our appreciation we leave the following:

ITEM 1—To Mr. Mapes and the school committee, we leave thanks for their help and guidance throughout our school years.

ITEM 2—To Mr. Whittle, we leave an automatic push-button system to insure quiet passing between periods.

ITEM 3—To Mr. Whipple, we leave pleasant memories of the Class of 1950. How could he forget it?

ITEM 4—To Mr. Lyons, we leave an automatic slip-signer to help in the morning rush.

ITEM 5—To the faculty, we leave dictionaries which do not contain the word study; also, the courage to face each new class.

ITEM 6—To the Trade School faculty, we leave a new year, a new freshman class, fewer troubles and more courage.

ITEM 7—To Room 211, we leave a closet big enough for the coats of all the students in the room so that Miss White will not have to look around for more space in the future.

ITEM 8—To Room 212, we leave a green and red light for each desk to indicate whether the pupil is present or absent.

ITEM 9—To Room 216, we leave an electric board-washer with a built-in eraser clapper, so that the boards will always be clean.

ITEM 10—To Room 217, we leave a "walkie-talkie" system to be used only by the teacher.

ITEM 11—To Room 218, we leave a pencil sharpener to eliminate ball-point pens and a time clock to eliminate the necessity of signing in and out.

ITEM 12—To Room 224, we leave a record machine and a long-playing record to relieve the teacher in giving those often-repeated orders.

ITEM 13—To Room 307, we leave a high-powered microphone which is needed to get messages to the students, and a new-type ventilating machine to carry those fumes back to the science lab where they belong.

ITEM 14—To Room 3, we leave another back door, so that the students may leave through whichever door they wish.

ITEM 15—To the juniors, we leave the honor of using our home rooms and the teachers to maintain order in them.

ITEM 16—To the sophmores, we leave the empty dishes from third lunch and the thrill of paying class dues.

ITEM 17—To the freshmen, we leave a mechanical brain that can solve the hardest homework assignment with the press of a button.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereto subscribed our names, this June of 1950.
